		Comments regarding meeting or exceeding benchmarks:
		The New Parent Program has successfully met and exceeded the number of group parent education offerings completed.
		This was due to the collaboration and planning with Partners in Family Development and Young Parents Group. The benchmarks for number of families and home visits completed fell short of target(s). This can be attributed to the mid-year staff turnover that the program experienced. The process of recruitment for new staff required extra time as position was for a qualified Spanish bi-lingual Family Support Worker. Program model standards indicate that new staff must be appropriately trained before they have the ability to conduct home visits with families. This practice ensures that families are receiving quality services from program at time of enrollment, however, impacts the length of time between start of employment of new staff and time when new families can be enrolled into program.

		Comments regarding meeting or exceeding benchmarks:
		The Program was able to meet the benchmark for retention of staff, exceeded the benchmark for group parent education offered and was within four visits of meeting the benchmark for number of home visits. The projected benchmark of serving 150 families was based upon the possibility of serving a four county service area and the benchmark was not adjusted for a three County area due to an omission by the Program Director. The Program anticipated serving 130 families and that benchmark was met and exceeded. The number of home visits was impacted by serving more hard to reach families, and weather and illness during the month of February. This also impacted the home visit completion rate.

seminar to child care center directors and owners. CCR&R also marketed this training on the statewide Iowa Department of Human Services Training Registry as well as in the bi-monthly CCR&R Professional Development Connection (PDC) newsletter that is emailed or mailed to all program.

CCR&R originally intended to offer a second FCF series training in the In the Spring. After surveying providers in the 4RKids ECI area, it was determined to offer a fifteen hour series: I Am Moving, I Am Learning (IMIL) to meet stated needs. IMIL is a proactive approach that addresses childhood obesity. Participants learn how to infuse movement activities and nutritional messages in existing daily routines and schedules. This training was also free and expanded the targeted audience to include all child care providers: center, preschool, and in home child care staff. Training participants were also provided resources such as books and a CD pertinent to the training IMIL was offered in the spring. Six of the nine who registered for the training attended and completed the series.

CCR&R will use third quarter Program Survey results targeting training needs to plan FY 2014 training to complement training already scheduled in the 4R Kids ECI area.
